THEME

Advancing Cancer Care in Africa in a Rapidly Changing World

Cancer will always be around with us, but with concerted efforts together, we can tame it.

Prof. Nicholas Abinya

KICC 2024 CHAIR,

Dr Njoki Njiraini

A warm welcome to the Kenya International Cancer Conference (KICC) 2024!

Dear Esteemed Delegates,

It is with great pleasure that I extend my heartfelt welcome to this gathering of distinguished medical professionals, researchers, oncologists, haematologists, pharmaceutical experts, policy makers, and advocacy groups. This year we are privileged to host KESHO's 8th International Cancer Conference at the Grand Royal Swiss Hotel, in the enchanting city of Kisumu.

This event marks our second gathering in this beautiful locale, and it is planned to take place from the 21st to the 23rd of November 2024. The venue with its picturesque setting, offers an ideal environment for the exchange of groundbreaking ideas and the forging of collaborations that are instrumental in advancing the field of oncology.

Our 2024 program, thoughtfully curated by the KICC Scientific Committee, explores the latest advancements in cancer care, patient treatment, and research. I would like to extend my deepest gratitude to these dedicated individuals who have contributed their expertise to develop a program that promises to be highly informative and impactful.

As we embark on this intellectual journey together, I encourage you to actively participate, engage with your peers, and leverage this unique opportunity to expand your knowledge, network, and contribute to the collective progress in oncology. I look forward to the collaborative spirit that will define KICC 2024, and I hope this conference serves as a catalyst for innovative ideas, meaningful connections, and positive changes in the world of oncology.

See you all in November!

Sincerely

Dr Njoki Njiraini
