

Who inspires you?

Prof Fred Chite, definitely. We wouldn't have a cancer centre in Voi if it weren't for him and his organisation. He is the kind of person that makes you think that titles are nothing if you don't make an impact vijijini. And despite his global status and achievements, he is quite approachable and encouraging. "You are not here just to see patients, own your title and get involved!" he would tell me.

Which Books are you reading?

I have just completed 'Escaping from Eden' and now I'm on 'The Scars of Eden'; books written by Paul Wallace, a former Catholic Priest tasked with translating The Bible by the Vatican. The books are well researched and thought provoking and are meant for those who are not afraid to question the unquestionable; who truly engineered us?

What's something about you that not many people know?

*I have an addiction to Ice Cream, can't go a day without one!
I don't own a TV, find it time wasting.*

What's the next place on your travel bucket list?

Travel around Europe and Mediterranean, in the largest cruise ship, Wonder of the Seas.

What's one item you can't live without?

*The Internet.
All my clinical updates and extra income are from the internet.*
